Calendarium Carolinum :

O R,

A New Almanack

After the Old Fashion,

For the Year of Christ

1665.

Being the first from Bissextile

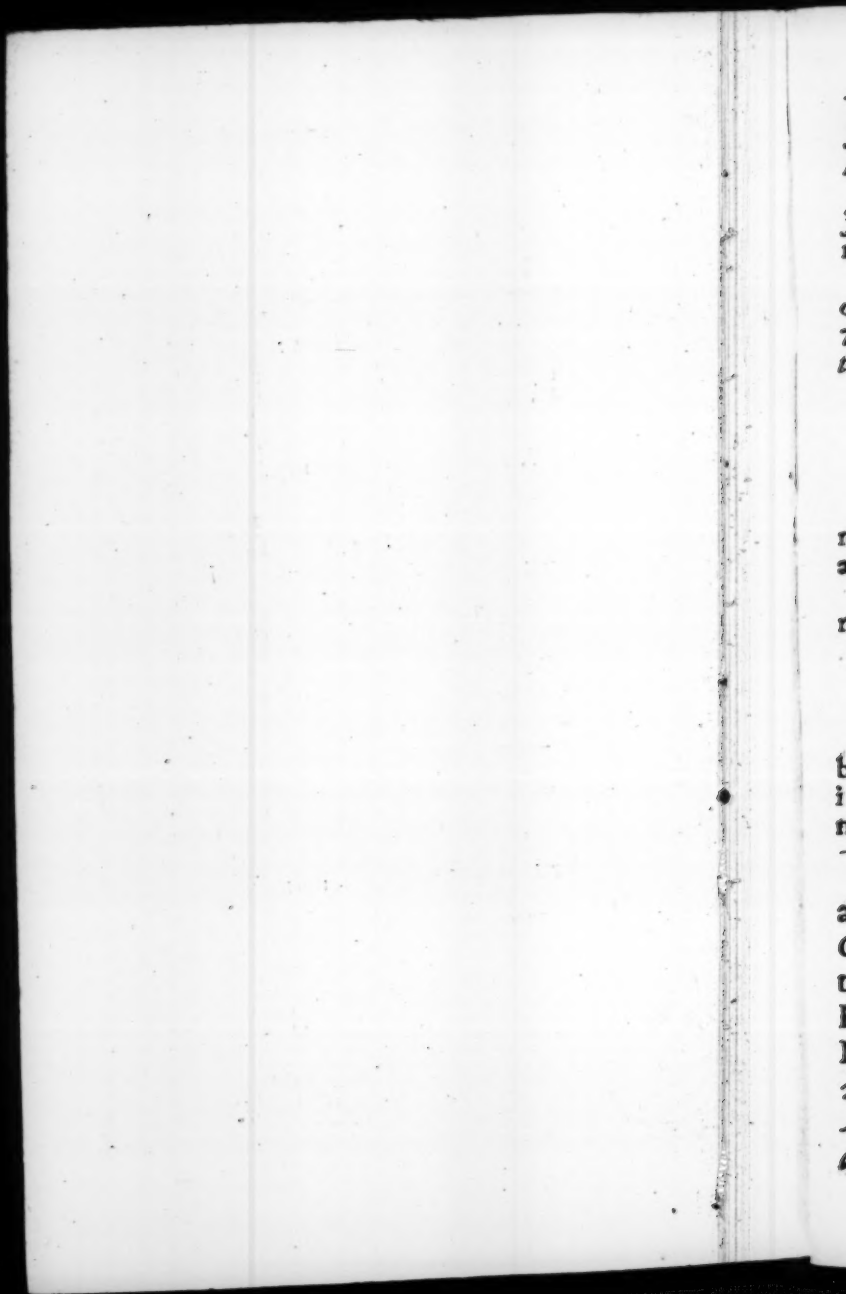

To which is added,

Or a Brief Chronology
from the year 1600. till the present 1665.

By George Wharton.

Idem per diversa.

Printed by J. Grismond, 1665.

Of the Eclipses this present Year, 1665.

FIve times this year shall the two great Luminaries be Eclipsed, viz. thrice the Sun, and twice the Moon: those of the Moon both visible in England, but not any one of the Sun's.

The first (in order) will be of the Sun, on Friday the 6 of January (being Twelvethe-day) about 7 in the morning, but not to be seen in England.

The second, a visible Eclipse of the Moon, to the quantity of 5 digits, on S. Agnes day, being the 21 of January, at 6 and 7 minutes in the morning; for that's the apparent time of the true Opposition in the meridian of London.

The {	Beginning at	4h. 3'. 21".	}	upon the aforesaid 21 of January .
	Greatest Obscuration at	5 9 25
	End at	— 7 5 29

The third will be of the Sun, the second day of July Afternoon, in Mexicana, Nova Hispania, Gulph of Mexico, Granada, and other places about the Aequator; but not visible in England.

The fourth a very small Eclipse of the Moon, on Monday-morning July 17. 16 minutes after midnight.

The {	Beginning July 16 ,	11h. 13'. 41".	}	in the morning.
	Middle July 17 ,	0 5 36
	End — — —	0 24 53

The last is a great Eclipse of the Sun on S. Stephens day, being the 16 of December, about 9 in the morning, to be seen in Africk, Madagascar, and other places more W. ward; but not in any part of Great Britain.

CHARLES the Second, our undoubtedly Lawful and most Renowned KING, began His Reign over Great Britain the 30. of January 1648. At what time those bloody Regicides so barbarously Murdered His Royall Father Charles the First of ever Glorious Memory: and hath Reigned 16. years complete the 29. of January this year 1665. but the 30. is Initium Anni Regni sui 17. Vivat in eternum Rex Carolus Secundus, quē Deus nunc & in secula seculi defendat, ore,

BY this, you see, the holy Feast of Easter falls out March the 26. which is the Sunday following the first Full Moon next after the Vernal Equinox. And therefore, I hope, we Almanack-writers shall not this year be accused for mistaking the time thereof, as all of us were the last year 1664 a whole week; though without any just cause on our part. Nevertheless somebody (who would be thought wiser perhaps than yet the World thinks him) made it look'd upon as a great Discovery, and more gloried in it than ever I heard Columbus did of his Discovering America; yet was so purblind as not to discover Five whole Weeks of the like Error but the very year before, our Easter then falling not till the 19 of April, which should have been on the 15. of March, according to the good old Rule of the Church.

Not indeed was it any new thing, or any Error at all of ours, That the celebration thereof should the last year fall seven days later than it ought to do, that being the twentieth time it hath so happened since the year of Christ 1600, w^t. in the years 1602, 1609, 1610, 1613, 1616, 1619, 1620, 1623, 1626, 1630, 1637, 1640, 1643, 1646, 1647, 1650, 1653, 1657, 1661, and the last year 1664; and so will again (unless the Julian Calendar, which yet we follow, be reformed) in the years 1667,

1669, 1673, 1677, 1681, 1684, 1685, 1687, 1688, 1691, 1694, 1697; and 31 times more before the year 1800.

Nor is this all: For there oft-times happens a whole Moneths Errour as to the time of the Celebration thereof, having already fallen out so three years since that of Christ 1600, viz. in the years 1625, 1652, and 1655; and so will again (without correction of the Calendar) in the years 1679, 1682, 1720, 1723, 1747, 1750, 1774, 1777, and in the year 1807: For in those years there will happen (from the Equinox) two Full Moons before our Easter can be kept.

Nay, there falls out very often no lesse than 35 days (or five Weeks) Errour in the time of our Easter, having already fallen out so no lesse than eleven times since the year 1600, viz. in the years 1603, 1606, 1614, 1617, 1622, 1633, 1636, 1641, 1644, 1660, and (as I said before) in the year 1663: and so will again (without amendment of the Calendar) in the years 1671, 1674, 1690, 1693, 1698, 1701; and just twenty times more before the year 1800.

But in the years 2437, 2461, 2491, &c. there will be 42 days Errour, and some time afterward no lesse than 49 days: And after the year 2698, (if the old Calendar should be still retained) it will never again happen according to the Rule of the Church, which fixes it on the Sunday following the first Full Moon next after the Vernal Equinox.

One cause of which Errours is, the Precession of the Equinoctium Vernal, which, from the first Nicene Council to this time, hath anticipated no fewer than eleven days, falling now the 10. of March; whereas at the time of that Council it was on the 21. of the same Moneth. And the reason of this Anticipation is, for that the Julian Year exceeds the true Solar Year by 10 Minutes 48 Seconds, or thereabout; which causes the Equinoxes and Solstices yearly to change their places, and fly backward so many Minutes and Seconds.

The Lunations also, by reason of the too great Quantity allowed them, do in every 19 years anticipate almost an hour and an half, and in 312 years and an half, one whole day: and therefore not exactly to be found by the Golden Number, although on those Lunations the Feast of Easter dependeth, as of it all the rest of the Movable Feasts: which is another cause of those Errours, and both together the first occasion of the Roman Emendation, whereby that Church doth alway produce Easter on the Sunday following the first Full Moon next after the Vernal Equinox, according to the Decree of the Nicene Council.

Now here I could willingly (and indeed intended to) have demonstrated how all this might be remedied; but that multiplicity of Bu-ness (which steers my thoughts another course) and the narrow Limits I am here confin'd to, do both obstruct and discourage me. All therefore I shall further say is this, I do much wonder that this Lynceus (whoever he was) that so vainly boasted of his Discovery of that one week pretended Errour in the time of Easter, and therefore traduced us all with Ignorance or Inadvertency, should himself not yet discover that Real Errour of the first of those Rules prefixed the new Common Prayer-book, Printed by John Bill and Christopher Barker, Anno 1664, (the very year of that his great Discovery) which pretends to shew how To know when the Moveable Feasts and Holy-days begin, viz.,

“ Easter-day (on which the rest depend) is always
“ the First Sunday after the first Full Moon,
“ which happens next after the One and twentieth day of March. And if the Full “ Moon happens upon a Sunday, Easter-day
“ is the Sunday after.

For although that Rule be true enough in respect of the Gregorian, yet is it altogether mistaken, as being in no wise applicable to our Julian Accompt: (which yet the Table of Moveable Feasts in the said Common Prayer-book, Calculated for 40 years, regardeth onely, and which must be followed untill His Majesty shall think fit to command a better :) And therefore very improper for that place.

But I hope the Most Reverend Father in God, his Grace the Lord Archbishop of Canterbury, will make it his concern, not onely to cause this Errour to be rectified, but in due time also move His Sacred Majesty to assume the glory of a better Emendation of the Calendar, than yet the Roman Church can boast of.

With the Age of the Moon (which you have in the 7 Column of the following Calendar) enter the first Column of this Table, and right against the same (under the name of the Place where you would know the time of High-water) you have it in hours and minutes.

Our Saviour circumciz'd: the wisemen are Conducted to his cradle by a star:
 Bless'd Land beheaded: Pauls Conversion wrought:
 All-glorious Charles upon the scaffold brought;
 Whose Royal Blood shed by remorseless slaves
 (Scall where they can) pursues them to their graves.

Whilst Loyal Wales pays homage to her Saint,
 Stout Capel's blood (so lost!) makes England faint:
 A Week of Passion, and three days of sorrow,
 But then the penfive world is bid Good morrow!
 The Sun of righteousness restores our light,
 Whose glorious rising makes that day so bright.

Low-Sunday leaveth off those garments white,
Put on in Baptism by the Neophite.
S. George, K. Charles! both upon one day crown'd;
S. George a Martyr, Charles a King, renown'd.
S. Mark the Evangelist by Trajan burn'd;
Whilst Alexandrea for her Bishop mourn'd.

To finish what our Saviour did and taught,
He now ascended : His Disciples saw 't.

The holy Ghost (in fiery tongues) were sent.
Great Strafford sacrific'd, yet innocent.

King Charles the second born, and born again ;
His Birth and Restauration makes it plain.

S. Barnaby (the Bright) doth next appear,
 And then S. John (the royal harbinger :)
 S. Peter (chief of all the Twelve) and Paul,
 (Both Roman Martyrs) glorious Martyrs all.
 Yet (such is still S. Peter's sad mischance !)
 His being at Rome, some 'count but a Romance.

The Dog-star now begins to shew his might,
 Yet that mad Dog in England doth not bite:
S. James (who to the twelve Tribes preach'd the Word)
 He in Judea fell by Herod's sword;
 Of whom (more than the rest) this may be said,
 He was the first Christ's Kingdom entered.

S. Bartholomew next to the cross we bring;

Both heir and nephew to a Syrian King:

Yet (by Polemus his unjust Decree)

Beat first with cudgels, then nail'd on a tree,

So sleyd alive; at last (whilst breath remain'd)

His head struck off: and so this Glory gain'd.

EMERIC.

The Grand Usurper dies, the Faction powts,
And Dick (his son) drest up, a King of clouts:
Both Court and City in Close-mourning drest,
Drapers and Silk-men more than all the rest.

Illustrious HENRY (Gloucester's Duke) expires,
Whom yet the World lamenteth, yet admires.

Thaddæus slain, and Simon (crucif^d)

Was last of all the twelve Apostles dy'd;

S. Luke departedh in a peacefull bed

At Ephesus, where he was buried.

Rarely bad quarter such Physicians find,

Who can (like him) both body cure and mind.

November hath XXX. dayes.

Lent
Acc.

With Bells and Bonfires here we celebrate
Queen Katherine's Birth-day, Englands happy State,
Adorn'd with such a Gemme, so fair a Queen,
In whom all Virtues are concentrating seen :

All-hallow day needs fear no more complaints,
Since SHE makes up the Total of All Saints.

Just when the Scepter is departed from Judas, Shadows Substances become :
Janus his Temple-gates are shut, Wars cease,
 Behold ! at Bethlem born, the Prince of peace.
 Well fare that Day ! parent of such a birth,
 Asreconcil'd (at once) both heav'n and earth.

Mend (friendly Reader) what escapes amiss,
 And then it matters not whose Fault it is:
 For all men sinne, since Adam first transgress;
 The Printer sinnes, & sinne much like the rest:
 T' there our comfort is, though both offend,
 We to our faults can quickly put —
